Dear Sir,

In answer to your questionnaire:

- 1 - No
- 2 - Yes
- 3 - Yes

These answers are contingent on finances.

I do not understand exactly what capabilities this would add to my computer. Why no Grafix or Z grass? If it did not greatly add to the language and allow me to use decimal numbers I might not buy any of these units.

I would also like it to handle larger numbers. Output is an important item for me also. I really know very little about what I can do with this computer and most of the books and articles I get hold of are far too technical for me to understand.

I really like your magazine and think you are doing a great job although I wish they were larger and contained more information.

Keep up the good work.

Yours truly,
