Dear Mr. Fabris:

I'm sorry to be so late to respond to the July 20 issue concerning the programmable keyboard.

1. If the Bally keyboard is available with full capacity, I wouldn't be willing to pay $650.
2. If the keyboard is available with partial capacity I would probably pay $350 for it.
3. If a keyboard can be developed I would be willing to pay $350 for it but how about upgrading capacity to 36+ RAM?

My present Bally computer is Model number B1-1200 serial number 5470. This happens to be my third unit since February 1978 because the other units failed to operate right, after a couple of months of use. My present unit is now clearing the memory and doing very aggravating things. I ~~was~~ have written to Bally concerning the problems and ~~am~~ awaiting a reply from them.

Thanks for providing a great ~~and~~ volume of ARCADIAN.

Sincerely,
Ken Stalter
